

CONTENTSFeatures*156
Viewpoint: Reconstructing the national conservation program

W. Q. Richards calls for a new commitment to build better soil and water conservation programs

158
My friend, the soil
Hans Jenny discusses soil as a thing of beauty and ecological importance162
Global loss of topsoil
Lester R. Brown assesses the sustainability of the world's soil resource166
What value wetlands?
Michal J. Bardecki evaluates the case for wetlands conservation170
Traditional Hopi agricultural methods
Deborah J. Prevost, Robert J. Ahrens, and David M. Kriz describe how an Indian people developed an agriculture adapted to harsh environmental conditions172 Monitoring soil salinity
J. D. Rhoades and D. L. Corwin look at new technologies for measuring and mapping soil salinity176 Monitoring drought for grazing land management
J. A. Dyer describes a computer model that produces an early warning of drought for beef producers in western Canada179
Commentary:
Conservation and the 1985 farm bill: Round 1
Ken Cook reveals the inside story on the sodbuster legislationDepartments*154
Pen points*182
In the news*188
Upcoming*189
Books, etc.*Research reports*191
A photogrammetric technique for measuring soil erosion
R. Welch, T. R. Jordan, and A. W. Thomas194 Nitrogen cycling in conventional and notillage agroecosystems
in the Southern Piedmont
Garfield J. House, Benjamin R. Stinner, D. A. Crossley, Jr., Eugene P. Odum, and George W. Langdale200
Coflocculation of algae and clay to clarify turbid impoundments
Yoram Avnimelech and Ronald G. Menzel203 Bulk density summaries for midwestern soils
M. J. Mausbach and E. E. Gamble205 Factors affecting adoption of conventional and conservation tillage practices in Ohio
Ted L. Napier, Cameron S. Thraen, Akia Gore, and W. Richard Goe209 Sphagnum moss recovery after harvest in a Minnesota bog
Arthur E. Elling and M. Dean Knighton211 Storm runoff and water quality on three ephemeral washes in the Price River Basin, Utah
Anching Lin, William L. Jackson, and Karla D. Knoop215 Camping effects on selected soil and vegetative properties
B. Graeme Lockaby and B. Allen Dunn

Cover: Elements of the conservation scene in Oklahoma, host state for SCSA's 39th annual meeting, "The Golden Anniversary of Soil Conservation." Photos by F. Dwain Phillips, Soil Conservation Service.